Policy number	HM-HHE-2601048
Policyholder	Levente Horvath
Insured address	44 Sample Quay, Budapest 1138
Edition	HHE-2026.1

Read the schedule, definitions, cover, exclusions, evidence duties and deductible together. No section alone confirms that a particular claim will be paid.

Read the identification, safety and applicability information before relying on this document.

2. Policy schedule

Period of insurance

Cover begins at 00:00 on 01 January 2026 and ends at 24:00 on 31 December 2026, local time.

Insured location

44 Sample Quay, Budapest 1138. The address is fictional and used only for evaluation.

Contents sum insured

12,000,000 HUF in total, subject to item limits, exclusions, evidence and settlement terms.

Electrical-damage option

Included. The option is conditional and does not remove the need to establish an insured event.

Policy	HM-HHE-2601048
Start	01 January 2026
End	31 December 2026
Standard deductible	30,000 HUF per accepted event

3. Definitions

Accidental damage

Sudden, unintended physical damage from an identifiable event, excluding gradual deterioration.

Contents

Household property owned by or legally held by the policyholder at the insured location.

External electrical event

Lightning or an abnormal supply disturbance originating outside the insured appliance and supported by technical evidence.

Wear and defect

Ageing, inherent weakness, internal breakdown or a manufacturing defect without an insured external event.

4. Insured property

Household electronics

Televisions, audio equipment and ordinary home-computing devices are contents subject to ownership and value evidence.

Pair and set

Settlement for one damaged item does not automatically extend to undamaged matching items.

Business use

Equipment used primarily for trade is subject to the business-property sublimit.

Property away from home

This policy wording does not add away-from-home cover unless the schedule says so.

5. General insured events

Fire and smoke

Sudden fire and smoke damage are covered subject to cause, exclusions and reasonable precautions.

Escape of water

Sudden escape from fixed domestic water systems is covered; gradual seepage and maintenance are excluded.

Theft

Theft involving forcible entry is covered when reported and evidenced as required.

Electrical option

External electrical-event cover is described separately on page 6 and must not be inferred from a general electronics failure.

6. Electrical damage - conditional cover

What may be covered

During the policy period, sudden physical damage to insured household electronics caused by lightning or an externally originating power surge may be covered when a qualified technician identifies that external event as the probable cause.

Cause evidence

Submit a qualified technician's report that distinguishes the observed symptom from the probable cause. When reasonably available, include event timing and utility, weather, electrician or protective-device evidence supporting the external event.

Essential exclusions

This section does not cover an internal manufacturing defect, wear, gradual deterioration, software-only failure, loss with no physical damage, pre-existing damage, deliberate acts, unauthorised repair, or damage whose cause remains unestablished.

No automatic entitlement

A date within the policy period, an error code, a receipt or a repair estimate alone does not prove an insured external event or guarantee payment.

Claim assessment also applies the evidence requirements on page 8 and the deductible on page 9.

7. Detailed exclusions

Internal breakdown

Mechanical or electrical breakdown arising solely within an appliance is excluded unless another section expressly covers it.

Manufacturer responsibility

A manufacturing defect or seller remedy is not converted into an insured event merely because it occurs during the policy period.

Installation and connected equipment

Incorrect installation, unsuitable supply, misuse and damage caused by an excluded connected device are excluded.

Gradual and cosmetic loss

Wear, corrosion, dust accumulation, image retention, scratching and loss of appearance without functional damage are excluded.

Unknown cause

Where the available evidence cannot identify a covered cause, Harbour Mutual may decline the claim.

8. Evidence for an electrical-damage claim

Ownership and value

Provide the purchase receipt or other proof identifying the item, purchase date and price.

Technical report

Provide a qualified technician's diagnosis, tests performed, probable cause, repairability and estimated repair cost.

Event support

Provide photographs and the event time. If requested and reasonably available, provide utility notices, weather records, electrician findings or surge-protection records.

Preserve the item

Do not discard or authorise irreversible repair before Harbour Mutual has had a reasonable opportunity to inspect or approve it.

Cooperation

Answer relevant questions accurately. Missing evidence can delay assessment or prevent the claimed cause from being established.

9. Deductible and settlement basis

Standard deductible

A 30,000 HUF deductible applies to each accepted event under the electrical-damage option.

Calculation

The deductible is subtracted after Harbour Mutual determines the covered repair or replacement amount and applies any limits, depreciation or other adjustments.

No coverage inference

A deductible calculation is not a coverage decision. If no insured event is established, no settlement is due.

One event

Damage arising from one external event is normally treated as one claim, even if more than one item is affected.

Illustrative accepted amount	95,000 HUF
Less standard deductible	30,000 HUF
Illustrative net before other adjustments	65,000 HUF

10. Claim process

Protect

Disconnect unsafe equipment and take reasonable steps to prevent further damage.

Notify

Report the event promptly with policy number, date, affected property and known circumstances.

Document

Collect ownership, value, photographs, technical diagnosis and external-event evidence.

Assess

Harbour Mutual reviews policy dates, property status, probable cause, exclusions, reasonableness of cost and the deductible.

Decision

The written decision explains acceptance, further information required or the reason for decline.

11. Limits and settlement

Repair

Harbour Mutual may pay a reasonable repair cost where repair restores equivalent function.

Replacement

If repair is uneconomic, settlement may reflect an equivalent current item subject to policy limits.

Betterment

An upgrade beyond equivalent function is not automatically payable.

Recovered property

Recovered or replaced property may become Harbour Mutual's property where the settlement terms require it.

12. Policyholder duties

Reasonable care

Maintain wiring and equipment and act on known hazards.

Accurate information

Provide complete, truthful information when arranging cover and making a claim.

Other rights

Tell Harbour Mutual about available manufacturer, seller or third-party remedies. Those rights do not decide whether this policy responds.

Changes

Notify material changes to the insured location or use as required by the schedule.

13. Complaints and review

Internal review

Ask Harbour Mutual to review a claim decision and identify the evidence or policy wording in dispute.

Response

A final response states the outcome and any external dispute route available under applicable rules.

Time limits

Complaint review does not extend legal limitation periods.

Records

Keep the policy, claim correspondence, reports, estimates and decision together.

14. Summary and document control

Policy reading rule

Apply the schedule, definitions, insured event, exclusions, evidence requirements, limits and deductible together.

Electrical damage

Possible cover requires technician-supported lightning or externally originating surge damage during the policy period.

No promise from summary

This summary does not add cover or guarantee a claim outcome.
